Re: Johnson & Johnson Talcum Power Products, Marketing, Sales Practices and Products liability Litigation
Case No.: 3:16-md-02738-MAS-RLS

Dear Judge Shipp:

I write to update you regarding the ongoing impact of In re Red River Talc, LLC, case number 24-90505, now pending before the Hon. C. Lopez, U.S. Bankruptcy Court, Southern District of Texas, Houston Division ("Bankruptcy Court"). Most pertinent for your immediate purposes, the original deadline for the defense reply brief on our motion for summary judgment passed while the bankruptcy court's administrative stay was in place. That stay will expire by its own terms tonight. However, the Bankruptcy Court yesterday announced that it will schedule a hearing next week to both hear argument/evidence and announce a decision on the Debtor's pending application for a temporary restraining order ("TRO") of all further litigation that may adversely impact the debtor's estate, which includes all claims that use of Johnson & Johnson's talc-based products resulted in ovarian and gynecological cancer. If granted, the TRO would further stay all action in this matter for most if not all defendants, and in particular, the Johnson & Johnson Defendants.

We therefore propose to file our reply brief, if needed, on Wednesday of next week or one business day following the hearing (should it be scheduled for Wednesday).

Honorable Michael A. Shipp
